

First Convention of LUVAS Alumni Association and National Symposium on “Livestock Sustainability for Food Security in India”

Dear Alumnus,
Greeting from LUVAS, your alma mater.

It gives me immense pleasure to inform you all that LUVAS will be hosting Alumni get-together and a concurrent Scientific Convention on “Livestock Sustainability for Food Security in India” during 22-23 August 2019. You are cordially invited to attend the event.

We have lined up several activities for you and your family to make your visit enjoyable and memorable besides keeping the relationship amongst alumni warm. We hope you take the opportunity to network and build new connections or strengthen existing ones.

The idea of a broad conference is to allow veterinarians from varied backgrounds to come under one roof to discuss the current issues. Your gracious presence and active participation along with your family is highly solicited.

Looking forward to welcoming you in this mega event!

Warm wishes,

Dr. Arun Kumar Sangwan
